

CW Blanks Redefines Premium Blanks Through Vertical, Portugal-Based Manufacturing

CW Blanks is redefining the premium blanks category by focusing on what truly matters: quality through our vertically integrated production, where we develop our collections under one roof in Portugal. This structure allows CW Blanks to deliver a level of consistency, control, and quality that is difficult to achieve in fragmented global supply chains.

Part of the CALVI Group — a Portuguese textile manufacturer with over 50 years of experience — CW Blanks is built on deep technical know-how and a long-standing tradition of textile excellence. Every garment is developed under direct supervision, ensuring reliable standards across materials, construction, fit, and finish.

Vertical production gives us control where it matters most. It means fewer variations between production batches, more consistent colours and sizing, and complete transparency over how our garments are made.

In House Departments

By managing garment development internally CW Blanks ensures:

- Greater consistency between production runs, reducing colour, fit, and fabric variation
- Higher reliability and predictability for brands and printers
- Reduced risk of stock disruption, thanks to closer production oversight
- Full production transparency, with clear knowledge of processes and partners
- Access to Portugal's textile expertise, recognised globally for quality and know-how

Sustainability Guides Everything We Do

CW Blanks works with certified organic cotton and post-consumer recycled polyester, sourced from trusted and responsible suppliers. All raw material partners are carefully selected and continuously monitored to ensure compliance with the brand's strict quality, ethical, and environmental standards.

This tightly controlled production ecosystem enables CW Blanks to minimise waste, ensure full accountability, and continuously refine its manufacturing practices.

Designed for Print, Built to Last

CW Blanks garments are manufactured specifically for customisation. From screen printing and DTG to embroidery and DTF, each blank is developed to perform consistently across techniques, while maintaining shape, colour integrity, and durability over time.

This makes CW Blanks a reliable foundation for independent labels, print studios, and established brands looking for dependable, premium blanks.

With Portuguese know-how, sustainable materials, and complete production control, CW Blanks is redefining what the modern blanks industry should stand for: quality, integrity, and accountability.
