

KETTLER HOME&GARDEN TRENDS AND INNOVATIONS 2026

Trends

In summer, patios and balconies become living rooms: so it's perfect that the latest outdoor trends are more homely than ever before and that KETTLER Home&Garden offers ideal solutions for every individual requirement with its new 2026 collection.

Gardening and spending free time with family and friends in your own garden remain very popular. This soothing break is balm for the soul and body. Appearance and function play just as important a role as comfort and practical aspects, such as weather resistance and stackability.

Much of this has always been a matter of course for KETTLER. In 2026, the company is focusing more strongly than ever on design and has developed a capsule collection with Frédéric Sofia, among others, which can only be announced at this stage and is sure to arouse curiosity. Stay tuned.

KETTLER is celebrating another premiere in 2026 and presenting KETTLER by Finn, the first result of its very successful collaboration with the University of Wuppertal: young, innovative solutions for the outdoor sector.

Novelties

LUGANO

With Lugano, KETTLER presents a newly designed, stackable aluminium chair with a casual look. The seat is made of fabric with integrated padding, is quick-drying and features olefin threads for an exclusive look. Thanks to its special construction, the seat appears to float, making it a visual highlight and reminiscent of Art Deco with its different levels.

SENSE

This is a new chair segment focused on colour and materiality. Its special features are the bronze-coloured textile covering with teak inlays in the armrests and the use of recycled materials, e.g. PET bottles, which have been reused here and now get a second chance as a high-quality KETTLER chair.

SLIGHT

Time to relax: camping is nostalgically beautiful and very much in vogue. The industry has been growing steadily for many years and is becoming increasingly important. KETTLER has been successfully offering camping chairs since the early days in the 1960s. New additions include a multiposition armchair and a stool that can be stowed away just as quickly as they are unpacked and moved into the right position.

ZENITH

The name says it all. With ZENITH, KETTLER presents the ultimate in comfort. The high dining lounge offers maximum seating comfort as a modular system for a classic 2-seater with armrests on the left or right. ZENITH is also available as a chaise longue. A special feature are the flattering, rounded aluminium profiles, which ensure a pleasant grip.

WHITE LINE

KETTLER successfully launched the White Line at spoga+gafa 2024. This previously included the DIAMOND segment, which was very well received by customers in its light colours. For the 2026 season, further models are being reinterpreted and given different, elegant beige shades.

These include the PARADISO swing seat, which can be used as a 3-seater or unfolded as a lounge for two people.

Memphis is also a new addition to the White Line and is available as a multi-position armchair, stackable armchair with teak applications on the backrest and armrests, and as a stool. Not only is it extremely elegant in appearance, it is also super-lightweight, weather-resistant and, of course, the decorative applications are made of certified teak. There is a matching new teak table top with a wing profile for an even more sophisticated look.

Student project KETTLER by FINN

The result is a modular system made of bouclé, a timeless, almost simple-looking yet unsurpassably elegant material that is considered an eternal classic in fashion. Bouclé has been used in the furniture industry for quite some time, but brings a new and fresh look to the outdoor sector. The material is durable, hardly creases and is easy to work with. Finn Ole Sommerhoff has taken advantage of these positive characteristics and the uncompromisingly elegant look and used them for his lounge furniture.

'It is particularly important to me that this project actually finds its way into everyday family life and becomes an integral part of shared moments.'

In doing so, he emphasises KETTLER's claim 'We bring life to the outdoors' and the associated idea of togetherness in a special way.

Tables and sun protection

Due to their immense popularity, the range of tables remains as extensive as ever: whether you are looking for a classic dining table, a multifunctional extendable table, a side table or various types of folding tables, KETTLER has the right table for every outdoor occasion. New additions include the CUBIC-X-Leg table frames in 95x95 and 160x95 cm, as well as a complementary 180x100 cm format and new designs in the table top range.

Sun protection is also an important topic and is given a lot of thought in terms of function, appearance and colour selection. The range is being expanded to include new sizes, fabric qualities and colours.

Textiles and accessories

Sun protection continues to gain in importance and is given a lot of thought in terms of function, appearance and colour selection. The range is being expanded to include new sizes, fabric qualities and colours. Also noteworthy is the wide variety of umbrella stands, which differ in shape, appearance and size and also impress with their high functionality.

In addition, KETTLER is presenting an expanded textile concept to make outdoor living even more beautiful and sustainable. Parts of the new cushions and pillows are made from recycled materials sourced from the oceans. Functionality always plays a major role at KETTLER: the covers of the new, sustainably produced textiles are all washable and fitted with zips to ensure easy cover replacement.

The range is rounded off with the stylish KETTLIGHTS, which will be added to the range in 2026 in a micro version with new colours, and the outdoor rugs. KETTLER offers a wide range of designs and sizes, so there is something to suit every taste and every space.

All of these are particularly important accessories for making outdoor living more homely, comfortable and cosy.