Objet : Meet Kokopelli at «Journées des Collections» • Stand U100

Dear Journalist,

Did you know that in just a few decades, we have lost 75% of our biodiversity ?

In response to this silent disaster, we have been taking action for over 25 years to preserve cultivated biodiversity, strengthen the autonomy of farmers and gardeners and safeguard a unique plant heritage by distributing organic, open-pollinated seeds.

Today, thanks to a network of dedicated professional producers, we offer the widest organic range of organic and open-pollinated seeds in Europe, with nearly 2000 vegetable, aromatic, cereal and flower varieties.

We would be delighted to meet at the «Journées des Collections»

Visit us at Stand U100, or contact us at professionnels@kokopelli-semences.fr to schedule an appointment.

We look forward to the pleasure of meeting you,

Fertilely,
