OUR NETWORK ALLOWS US
TO KEEP OUR WORD, ALWAYS.

US,
IN A NUTSHELL.

A story that started in 1990 thanks to the visual and tactile experience of our origins in textiles.
The belief that packaging is an integral part of the story called "brand".
The goal: enhancing every product even before you see it and allowing to always be at its best.

A LOT OF RESEARCH FOR FREEDOM OF CHOICE.

The speed at which the packaging sector evolves is extremely high, solutions increase, materials change as does technology.
There is only one way to help the client make an informed choice:
never stop researching.

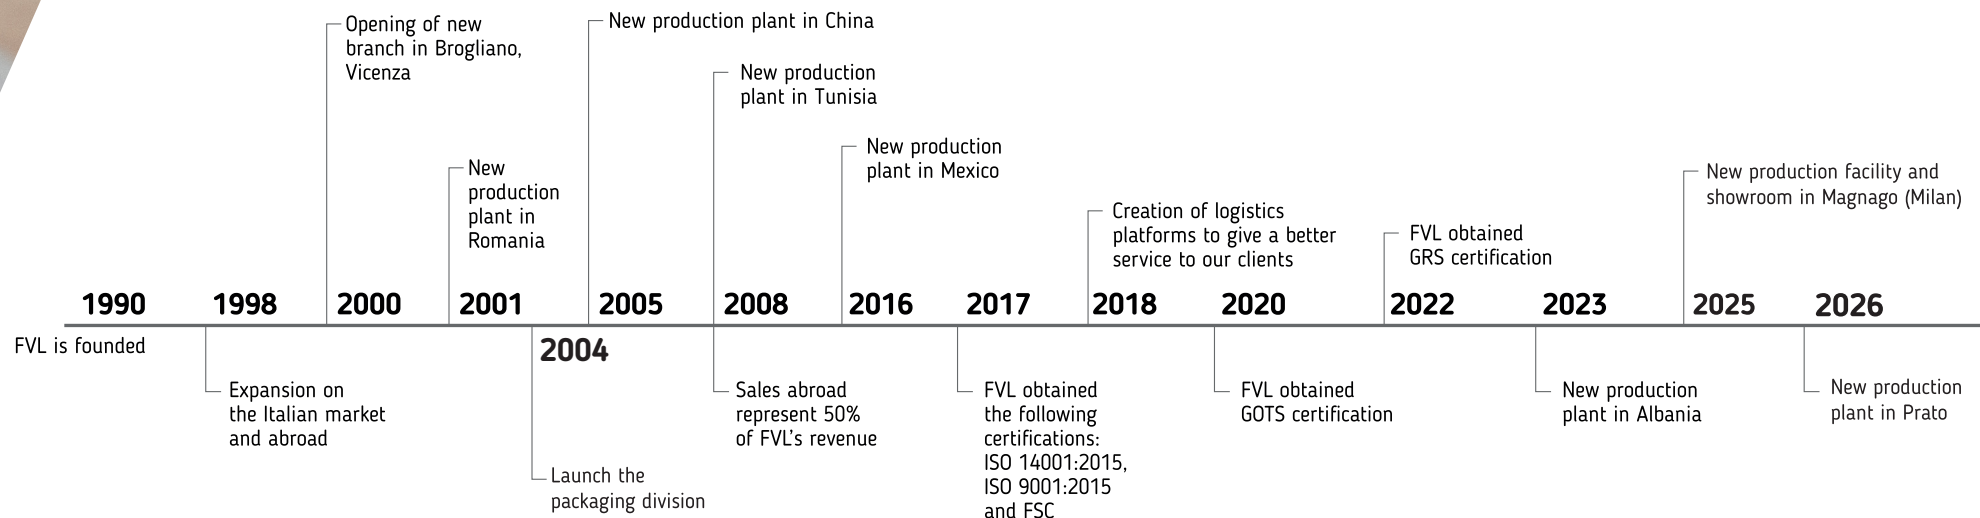

WE SUSTAIN
REAL SUSTAINABILITY.

A Conscious partner an ethical partner

Founded in 1990.

Our story started with the visual and tactile experience of our origins in textiles. Having grown up in touch with beauty, shapes and the awareness of how much even a single detail can make a difference has allowed us to combine our experience and ideas, without ever letting go of our flair for research. Obviously, it isn't the only thing that matters, on the contrary, it is only a starting point, but a great one. A world of shapes, colour, design, substance and communication. A high-speed world which FVL looks into day after day to be able to always suggest the best solution to each and every client.

Sustainable quality

Research and innovation for real sustainability.

Sustainability cannot exist without innovation and there is no innovation without research. We are convinced of this.

Sustainability is not a fad or a fleeting trend. It is not a choice, it is not a tree planted somewhere or a declaration inserted in the new company profile. It must be a daily attitude shared by the whole company; this is how it becomes effective and concrete and common goals can be reached. In this process, clients and suppliers are in it together because container and content tell the same story called “brand”.

Value-added design

When design, planning and creativity make the difference.

On the one hand, technology, continuously evolving materials and the need to monitor everything (always). On the other, design and planning which make it possible for us to give that “extra touch”.

Packaging is communication; this is what we believe.

There may be demand for a standard product at a competitive price, like there may be the need to interpret a brief for the creation of an original product. In FVL, we are equipped for both; internally and externally. We have a graphic design and style department to adapt each solution to the identity of the brand being represented, and we constantly foster collaborations with designers and communications experts to push us even more. This is all part of our constantly evolving service towards our clients. How could it be otherwise?

A world of solutions

Packaging is not just a casing that contains something, it is a place and moment that gives value to a product and tells the story of a brand.

Special projects original projects

For us talking about alternative solutions means expressing the originality of our creations with an eye to materials and processes able to sustain the environment.

BYFVL represents our non-stop research for materials, solutions and production processes. This is how we do intelligent and functional design.

NOVANTA

Shapes, processes, colours, customisation: an infinite number of opportunities to enhance the product and the brand. This is a process that results in a 90° angle, “no ifs, ands or buts”

Beredo is the FVL upcycling project done with the client for the client. Our starting point is textile processing waste. We follow the entire process that gives it new life, transforming it into something that shows the brand's attention to the environment.

NOLET
FVL carbon technology

The FVL project that STOPS ALL ODOURS was created based on the technology used to produce NASA spacesuits. Bags, envelopes, packaging that become very special containers.

The use of paper instead of plastic reduces environmental impact and has the advantage of being produced sustainably. We have developed a paper hanger that satisfies all the traditional functions with a very, very special look & feel.
